

Garden Event

11-21-20, 10am, Online Zoom, How to Propagate Begonias with Al Palacio

Description = Mr. Begonia returns! Plant Collector and Gardening Expert Al Palacio will be back to show us how to propagate new begonias -- from almost any part of a parent begonia plant. Begonias are most known for their spectacular foliage. From painted-leaf or fancy-leaf begonias with their showy, breathtaking leaf colorings and stunning patterns to Angel-Wing begonias with their bamboo-like stems and leaves that look like their whimsical namesakes, we're big begonia fans. Yes, you can grow these beauties from seeds. But, it's so much easier and faster to propagate them from cuttings (stems, leaves or rhizomes). Grasp this great opportunity to learn proven rooting methods, compare techniques or brush up on your skills. Learn how to easily sprout as many begonias as you want from cuttings -- to increase your own stock or gift to family and friends. Al will demonstrate his ultimate techniques and tips for successfully growing a treasure trove of gorgeous begonias. Discover how you too can clone and nurture all types of begonias to their spectacular best. A Q&A will follow the demonstration. Join us for an educational, inspirational and lively morning with a master.

Cost = free

For more information and to RSVP for Zoom Access = live@CulverCityGardenClub.org or www.facebook.com/CulverCityGardenClub/