Overview

VERDANT VENICE GROUP (VVG) is a grassroots not-for-profit community organization dedicated to increasing the native tree canopy and greening the understory throughout the Venice community. Since its founding in 2018, VVG has particularly focused on underserved Venice areas, well-traveled local thoroughfares and a variety of public spaces in need of landscape beautification. To date, the group has planted and nurtured over 450 trees and hundreds of native shrubs at dozens of public locations throughout the area. VVG seeks to bring the benefits of shade-providing tree canopy to neighbors while supporting the biodiversity of local wildlife by dramatically increasing their habitat. We also seek to support increased interest in native plants by labeling and growing interest in plant communities.

Responsibilities

VVG members devote 2 hours every Saturday morning from 8-10 am to realize the group's mission. We range in age from 19 to 83 - share a passion for horticulture and a concern for the environment.

Required Knowledge, Skills and Abilities

VVG seeks native plant knowledgeable local volunteers to help inform our planting decisions. Individuals that can help with educational signage are also needed.
