

Job Opportunity

7-8-21 Call for Instructors, Theodore Payne Foundation, no stated deadline

Are you an experienced educator who can lead classes in native plant botany, horticulture, or other topics that connect adult students with the native flora of California? Please send us a brief description of class(es) you would like to teach, a résumé, and a link to a video sample if possible. We strongly encourage people with Traditional knowledge, non-conventional education paths, languages other than English, or marginalized voices to make submissions.

For questions about teaching at TPF, please email Scott Cher at scott@thedorepayne.org
